

3RD YEAR RESIDENCY POSITION AVAILABLE, OKLAHOMA STATE UNIVERSITY

Come explore the exciting world of pathology! The Department of Veterinary Pathobiology in the College of Veterinary Medicine at Oklahoma State University (OSU) in beautiful Stillwater, OK, invites applicants for a 3rd year anatomic pathology residency training position. We are seeking a highly motivated, hard-working, and dependable individual who has a DVM or equivalent degree, completed 2 years of an anatomic pathology residency program, successfully passed Phase I examination, and is interested in pursuing a career in diagnostic anatomic pathology. This is a full-time position for the duration of one year.

Seven anatomic pathologists and three clinical pathologists are on faculty with a wide range of expertise, who recognize the importance of an enriched learning environment and understand that the ultimate goal is board certification by the American College of Veterinary Pathologists (ACVP). In addition to the extensive and varied diagnostic case material presented to the Oklahoma Animal Disease Diagnostic Laboratory (OADDL) each week, there are several rounds and seminars in addition to abundant archived material available for ACVP board preparation. There are also opportunities for creative scholarly activities. Independent studying and analysis of pathological concepts is also a key component of this program. Residents receive a travel stipend ($1500/year) to fund attendance and participation at pathology courses, workshops, and meetings designed to enrich their learning experience. Additionally, a one-time textbook stipend ($500.00) is afforded for each resident.

Start date is July 31, 2023. Salary is $34,585 per year plus a benefits package that includes health insurance and fringe benefits. Interested individuals are encouraged to apply online at: <https://okstate.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=8&id=12384>. Your application should include current curriculum vitae, a cover letter outlining your career goals, official transcripts from professional studies, and, if required, TOEFL scores (required for individuals trained in non-English speaking institutions). At least 3 letters of reference should be submitted and may either be uploaded by the applicant through the online portal or emailed (by applicant or referees) to Dr. Valerie McElliott at vmcelli@okstate.edu. For full consideration, applications should be received by March 15, 2023. Please direct inquiries to Dr. Valerie McElliott, Residency Coordinator.
